(By United Press.)

Paris, August 30. — 4 p. m. — American troops, with the French north and east of Soissons engaged in their first battle with German cavalry today. The enemy hurled a large body of mounted troops against the Franco-American forces in an effort to break up the advance. The attack was entirely unsuccessful and the allies continued their progress amid furious fighting.

The principal roads to St. Quentin are rapidly falling into control of the allies.

Northeast of the Nesle, the French are outflanking the north canal section of the Somme line.

North of Noyon, French troops are progressing along the road to Ham.

With the British Army in France, August 30.—The British today had Peronne under the same direct and flanking attack which resulted in the fall of Bapaume. Bapaume is a picture of desolation almost as complete as that of Albert.

At noon the Australians faced Peronne across the Somme and had reached almost within striking distance on the north side of the river. The British held the entire western bank of the river, in conjunction with the French while at one point of La Chapelle, they succeeded in crossing the canal, which is practically the same as the river.

Along the river, below Peronne the Germans are withdrawing their field guns. Their heavy pieces already are behind the center.

All bridges have been smashed except at Clerly, toward which the Australians have advanced on both sides of the river.

Combes has been taken, together with a battery of field guns, while comparatively few prisoners have been reported. So far only 260 have been taken along the river below Peronne.

Yankees Pour in Heavy Fire

With the American Army in France, August 30.—American artillery is pouring a heavy fire into the woods east of the Juvigny-Chavigny line, smashing a machine gun nest. A heavy destructive fire has been turned this way.

Two German divisions have been identified opposite the Americans. The American positions are still located along the railway, with their patrols penetrating beyond.

Allies Cross Somme

London, August 30.—The allies are passing through the Somme, where the Germans intended to hold temporarily to cover their retreat to the Hindenburg line. Field Marshal Haig announced today that the Somme river had been crossed south and east of Peronne. This apparently brings the British into the outskirts of that important communication center.

This may result also in a flanking movement against Ham from the north and thus force immediate retirement to St. Quentin and the remainder of the Hindenburg line, 50 miles to the eastward.

Canadian troops went forward this morning in a whirlwind attack south of the Arras-Cambrai road. It is reported progressing.

In yesterday's fighting the British pushed 4 miles beyond the Hindenburg line.

British troops were also pushing ahead in the Lawe and Lys valley on the Flanders front.

Riencourt Captured

London, August 30.—The British advanced 2,000 yards on a front of 7 miles, between Bullecourt and the Scarpe today, and are now within a mile of Queant.

They have captured Riencourt, two miles south east of Bapaume.

The allies now hold a line on the Somme front from Duscourt to Noyon, of which they have captured the northern and eastern suburbs.

Counter Attacks Repulsed

Paris, August 30.—German counter attacks northwest of Soissons were repulsed, the French war office announced today. Ten fresh German divisions have been rushed up to oppose the Franco-American advance in this area, which seriously threatens the whole western portion of the enemy Aisne-Vesle line. In the Ailette region, the French are approaching St. Gobain forest, regarded as one of the greatest defensive positions on the west front.

Germans Fight Desperately

With the Americans in France, August 30.—The Germans are fighting desperately.

CITY WINS FAMOUS "TREE DOCTOR" CASE

Indiana Appellate Court Sustains Lower Court Which Found For Rushville Council.

NO APPROPRIATION MADE

The decision of the Indiana court, sustaining the lower court in its decision on the case of Albert W. Brayton et al. Indianapolis against the city of Rushville, which was filed to collect money alleged due the plaintiff for treating trees in the city park, has been received in the Rush circuit court.

This is what became known as the "tree doctor" case, which was won in the lower court by the city and appealed on the grounds that the lower court denied a new trial. Another hearing was demanded on the grounds that the decision of the lower court was not substantiated by the evidence and was contrary to law.

The city council on June 17, 1913, authorized the park committee to have the trees in the city park treated, and on June 25 following, the committee employed the plaintiffs in this case, agreeing to pay for all material and for the labor at the rate of 95 cents an hour, which made the total bill $493.55. The city council refused to pay because no appropriation had been made for such work, and this was the defense of the city which won the case.

ORDER EFFECTIVE SUNDAY

Many Anxious to See How Ban on Automobiles is Observed

The ban on the use of automobiles, with few exceptions, on Sundays will be effective Sunday and the majority of the people in Rush county, especially owners of motor vehicles, are expectantly looking forward to the day to see how the request of the national fuel administration will be observed. It is almost universally admitted that church-going will be no exception to the rule that automobiles shall not be used on Sundays. The ban will also be a blow to arrangements made for family reunions, many of which were to be held in Rush county Sunday.

TRACTION CO. GETS RESTRAINING ORDER

Third Street Contractor is Prevented From Tearing up Street Hearing Sept. 7

ALLEGATION OF COMPANY

The Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company today obtained a restraining order, issued by Judge Sparks of the circuit court, preventing George T. Miller of Lebanon, the Third street contractor, and Roy Evans, his foreman, from beginning to tear up Third street from Morgan to the east corporation line, preparatory to laying brick along the I. & C. traction line, as they had threatened to do. Judge Sparks set the hearing on the suit for a temporary injunction for Saturday morning, Sept. 7, at nine o'clock.

The suit for a temporary injunction was filed this morning and the restraining order at once granted. The complaint sets forth that it is impossible for the plaintiffs to get steel rails 7 and three-quarters inches high, which the plans and specifications for the street require, because the government commandeered all steel after war broke out a year ago last April, a fact which the city council and contractor knew. The complaint alleges, when the contract was let June 27, 1917. It is also set forth that the I. & C. traction lines carries Adams express, which is now operated by the government, and that tearing up the street would hinder this.

WAR HISTORIES ARE DISTRIBUTED IN CITY

May be Secured at Places Where Subscriptions Were Made—Two be Delivered in County

DISTRIBUTION IS SIMPLIFIED

The Rush county Red Cross war histories were delivered in the business district of Rushville yesterday and the remainder will be distributed throughout the county in a very few days.

People may secure their copies of the history at the place where they made their subscriptions. In this way the delivery will be simplified and the Red Cross will not have to go to the expense and trouble of mailing each individual copy. Each distributing point has its list of subscribers and as they call, their names will be checked off.

The war histories were delivered with a truck provided by Oneal Brothers and Loren Woods, and Carol Nipp assisted the committee in making the distribution.

WATSON LEADS AN ATTACK IN SENATE

Inquires What Authority War Department Has to Educate Men 18 to 20 in Colleges

MISLEADING PEOPLE, CHARGE

Discussion Threatens to Hold up Man Power Bill in Senate After Adoption by House

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 30.—An attack on the war department that for a time threatened to hold up the report on the man power bill, developed today. Senators hurled charges of "political propaganda" being spread and misleading the people.

The attack started when Senator Watson of Indiana inquired what authority the war department has for its reported plan to take over 400 American universities and colleges to educate men of 18 and 20 at the government's expense.

Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military affairs committee, declared he knew of no such plan.

Watson produced a long newspaper article to prove that such a plan is under way.

"This is another step in the paternalistic socialistic scheme being worked out with the approval of socialist officials high in the government," said Watson.

Senate and house conferees promptly reached a formal agreement on the bill, following removal of the "work or fight" amendment—the principal obstacle. The conference report was adopted by the house after considerable criticism, but only of minor features, without a roll call.

The conferees had only the senate amendments, offered by Senators Penrose of Pennsylvania, France of Maryland and Wadsworth of New York, before them. The Penrose amendment, which provided that registrants need not claim exemption or deferred classification, but that such matters be determined by the local draft boards, was stricken out after Provost Marshal General Crowder had explained that new instructions will provide that draft boards and not registrants must start deferred classification claims.

Opposition to the amendment by Gen. Crowder was due to the fact that it would have compelled revision of millions of printed questionnaires and delayed the operations of the draft.

New regulations drawn by Gen. Crowder, but not yet approved by Secretary Baker, Senator Chamberlain explained, provide that district and not local boards shall have principal jurisdiction over the granting of different classifications, aided by a new advisory board, composed of three members, one appointed respectively by the secretaries of labor and agriculture and one by the district board itself. The new board would advise the district board members regarding local economic conditions as applied to individual cases.

The conferees also eliminated the amendment of Senator France of Maryland providing for badges or other insignia for men deferred for industrial and other service.

FIRST INCREMENT TO LEAVE SUNDAY

Rule of Sending Selected Men to Camp on Week Day's Will be Broke For First Time

TWO QUOTAS ENTRAIN SUNDAY

Two Detachments Also Leave For Training Today—Seventeen go to Camp Taylor Sept. 5

The two increments of selected men listed to fill the Purdue and Indianapolis auto mechanics quotas, will entrain Sunday morning at 10:51 o'clock on the C. & W. railroad, according to train schedules received by the county army selection board. There men will go to Indianapolis and two will depart for Purdue university at Lafayette, Ind. This is the first instances where detachments of selectives have been called to camp on Sunday.

Two more instances left for camp today, three entraining at 10:51 a. m. over the C. & W. for Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa, and six at 3:30 p. m. over the same road for Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O. This makes fourteen men who have entered training here since Wednesday, and twenty-three more are to depart within less than a week.

There will be no movement of soldiers out of here tomorrow, and after the Sunday quotas, the next entrainment, will be that of the Camp Taylor, Ky., quota of seventeen, which will depart next Thursday, September 5, at 7:10 a. m. over the Pennsylvania railroad. The train schedule for this call was received this morning by the local board. The increment will arrive at Louisville at 11:20 a. m. and twenty-nine will board the train at Columbus, seven at Scottsburg and thirty at Jeffersonville, making a complement of eighty-three when the detachment arrives at Camp Taylor.

The board this morning received a letter from George N. Murdock, who signed his name as a special employe of the department of justice at Indianapolis, suggesting that John M. Carr of this city be reclassified and put in class one, since he had been found to be driving a taxicab at Galveston, Texas, which is classed as a non-productive occupation for men of draft age, and is not living here. He was in class two on dependency, but was reclassified and put in class one subject to call on August 14. The board replied at once, notifying Mr. Murdock of Carr's standing.

Rush county today gained a registrant when the board was notified that Walter Sharp of Hawareeen, Canada, who was born in Rushville, had registered at his home for military service in the United States, under the terms of the draft treaty entered into by the United States and Great Britain. Sharp is a white man, is thirty years of age and a mechanic by trade, according to his registration card.

ROBERT ROAM OVERSEAS

Robert Roam of this city has arrived safely overseas, according to a message received by his parents here yesterday. Private Roam left here April 27 with the selective men for Camp Taylor and embarked from Camp Merritt, N. J.

ATTACK STEP-DAUGHTER

Charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, Victor Ellerman was arrested yesterday afternoon following an alleged brutal attack on his eight-year-old step-daughter. The case has been set for hearing at the opening of the September term of court.

TO FILL SOLDIERS PLACES IS SLOGAN

Rush County Franchise League Completes Organization for Membership Campaign

DRIVE TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Mrs. Walter Greenough, State Organizer, Assists in Preparation For Canvass

Who fill the places of America's men who have crossed the sea?

The slogan which has been adopted by the Rush county Franchise League workers in relation to the membership drive to be put on next week, is the keynote through which a complete canvassing organization is being perfected by county and township women, assisted by Mrs. Walter Greenough, state organization chairman.

"It is the patriotic duty of every woman in Rush county to become affiliated with the league at this time," declared the enthusiastic state organizer, following the successful tour of the county, when consultations were held with each of the twelve township chairmen. Mrs. Greenough stated that it is a vital issue at present, and especially since more than a million of our men will be unable to vote, patriotic American women should do all in their power to band themselves together to secure the right of suffrage in order that the alien vote may not sway any part of the country.

Under the direct leadership of Miss Henrietta Coleman, county chairman, Rush county has completed an excellent organization for the campaign for membership and signers to a petition for woman suffrage. Miss Coleman, in her visit through the county, has emphasized the fact to the township officials that during this world war every English speaking nation except the United States has enfranchised its women. In England this action was not a reward for the marvelous war work done by the women but distinctly as a recognition of their loyalty to the government and their heavy and willing labor to release men for military service. Parallel conditions are already existing in this country.

In every section of the county, greatest enthusiasm is evinced among the workers and on each hand hearty co-operation is being noticed. The township quotas for membership and petitioners have been assigned and in each section of the county the township chairmen have selected their canvassers ready to start the drive with a momentum which will not only put Rush county over the top but effect a campaign of such speed that the county will be in line for the prize which has been offered for the first county to report a successful completion of the membership drive.

The county's quota has been placed at 850 members, and including the petitioners, the townships have been divided as follows.

Ripley—Mrs. William Henley, 75 members, 515 petitioners.
Posey—Miss Mary Lawrence, 55 members, 390 petitioners.
Walker—Mrs. Fred Gross, 45 members, 330 petitioners.
Orange—Mrs. Wilbur Brown, 50 members, 356 petitioners.
Anderson—Miss Emma Terhune, 80 members, 565 petitioners.
Rushville—Mrs. Neff Ashworth, 75 members, 375 petitioners.
Jackson—Miss Lura Bowen, 25 members, 200 petitioners.
Center—Mrs. Bert Benner, 35 members, 400 petitioners.
Washington—Mrs. C. E. Small, 40 members, 300 petitioners.

ber Term

AN INTERRUPTION IS LIKELY

Calendar Probably Can't be Follow-

New Registrants

The September term of the circuit court, after the usual summer vacation, will open next Monday. A number of important cases have been set for trial, according to the calendar which has been arranged by Judge Sparks, but it is not probable that the calendar can be followed very closely because of the interruption which will occur when the court and attorneys stop to assist the new military registrants in filling out their questionnaires.

Practically all of the state cases on the docket are set for the first week of the September term, according to the calendar, which is as follows:

up issues.
- Sept. 3.—State vs. Dugan; Williams

PLEDGES PAID TWO MONTHS IN ADVANCE

Close of August Finds Rush county
W. S. S. Subscribers Ahead
on Their Obligations

OVER SUBSCRIPTION IS LIKELY

The closing of the month of August finds the greater per cent of October and November War Savings stamp pledges already paid and in addition, cash sales which are exceeding the greatest estimation by the officials.

The cash sales have been especially good during the past two weeks and have been foundation for the announcement from the local headquarters that the end of September will doubtless find the county over the $386,000 quota in cash sales alone, thus leaving the thousands of dollars in pledges to pile up as an enormous over-subscription.

Money which in former years has been spent on what was believed to be the necessary vacation, has been saved in many instances this year, and a goodly portion of the amount has been placed in the purchase of Thrift and War Savings stamps.

TO EFFECT QUICK RESPONSE TO LOAN

State Council of Defense Assured of Patriotic Response From the Hoosier State

CALLS EVERY ORGANIZATION

Defense Officials Ask Co-operation of Every County and Township Body in United Effort

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—With a unanimity that was convincing of the purpose of the Indiana State Council of Defense to effect a quick patriotic response to the call of the federal government for funds, at the opening of the Fourth Liberty Loan drive, September 28th, the resolution offered at the regular weekly meeting of the council by Joseph G. Bach, was ratified as submitted. The council today, pursuant to this resolution issued a call to the county councils, township councils and all patriotic organizations working with them, to tender their service to the chairman of the Liberty loan committees of the several municipalities and counties of the state, to the end that there may be complete harmony and such concerted effort as will best work to the success of the intensive drive contemplated.

The State council's position that the patriotic organizations can best assist by uniting with the loan organization, which since the third campaign has been of a continuous character, meets with the approval of the Indiana Executive committee, under Will H. Wade, director of sales for the state. Mr. Wade is pleased with the assurance of co-operation conveyed by the council's resolution and has issued a request that all county and city chairmen immediately avail themselves of the organization and prestige of the defense councils and their affiliated working forces.

Judge Bach's resolution indorsing "a short campaign" to the end that "the war time business throughout the state of Indiana can proceed best without the continued strain and disruption" incident to long drawn-out campaigns" is expected to meet with unanimous approval by all except the tight-wad who has prepared his excuses for not subscribing to the limit of his financial ability, at once upon the opening of the books.

Not Due to Sex Alone

Rushville Women Have Learned the Cause of Many Mysterious Pains And Aches

Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills, is bound to help had kidneys get better. There is no other remedy so well-recommended by Rushville people. Read this case:

Mrs. W. A. Wylie, 824 N. Arthur St., Rushville, says: "I have had kidney trouble and I certainly appreciate what a serious complaint it is and how severely one can suffer from it. My trouble began with a dull, dragging pain across my kidneys and over my hips. I was unable to do my housework for a week and was in misery. Others of my family had taken Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results, so I got some from Pitman & Wilson's store. I started using Doan's and the pain in my back soon disappeared."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wylie had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

Negro Troopers in France

Irvin Cobb, the well known Kentucky writer, contributes to the current Saturday Evening Post a very appreciative description of two negro regiments which he saw just back of the fighting line in France, one of them composed of big and very black negroes from the lower South and the other of not so big but soldierly negroes from the North, these latter being of many colors, ginger-bread, tan, light mulatto and all intermediate tints. White officers commanded in both cases and these spoke enthusiastically of the morale of their men, their eagerness to learn, their readiness to endure hard physical strain, and their desire to get at the enemy whom they call "Bush-Germans"—Africa adaption of the French Boches. The coal-blacks from the South Atlantic and Gulf States speak the far-Southern negro dialect and piously sing hymns. The piebald negroes from the North have less distinctive accent and are more "sophisticated and townwise."

But all in both camps wore their uniforms with "smartened pride," and sharpening their bolos seemed to be their favorite occupation. As they sharpened these long heavy blades they talked enviously of the famed Henry Johnson and Needham Roberts, negro soldiers who had won the French war cross, the former receiving in addition a golden palm across the red-and-green ribbon of his decoration—the reward for extraordinary valor. The story goes that a negro soldier recently bought a razor and, being advised to take a safety, instead on having the old-fashioned kind because, as he stated, he wanted it "for strictly social purposes." But Mr. Cobb says nothing about razors, the more available bolo with which Johnson performed such deadly feats. Johnson and Roberts, two comparatively green recruits, we read, "were attacked at night in a front line strong point by a raiding party estimated to number between twenty and twenty-five. After both had been badly wounded and Roberts had gone down with a shattered leg, lying on his back, flung hand grenades with such effect that he blew at least one of the raiders to bits of scrap meat. Johnson, first with bolos, then with his clubbed rifle after he had emptied it, and finally with his bolo, gave so valiant an account of himself that the attacking party fled back to their own lines, carrying with them at least five of their number who had been either killed out-right or most despitely used by the valiant pair." No wonder the black troopers talk of Johnson and Roberts as they sharpen their bolos.

Manville, R. I.—"The whooping cough—and later the measles—left my little boy of eight years with no appetite, thin, frail, delicate and tired all the time. After everything else had failed Vinol gave him a hearty appetite, restored his strength and he is now as well as ever."—Mrs. James H. Hall.

The beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates contained in Vinol were just what this little boy needed to restore him to health. We strongly recommend Vinol. F. B. Johnson & Co. and leading druggists everywhere. (Adv.)

Mr. Cobb's story, which has much humor, is not without pathetic touches. For example, he says that the censor copied the following from a negro soldier's letter to his mother in New York: "Mammy these French people don't bother with no color line business. They treat us so good that the only time I ever knows I'm colored is when I looks in the glass." Evidently the French are so glad of and so grateful for American aid that it concerns them little whether it shows a white, a red or a black face.

Protection Best Assurance

The national Federation of Federal Employees has issued a lengthy statement in which it asserts that it is the duty of the government to assure an opportunity for all to earn a living, and that there will be no acute congestion of the labor market after the war, when the millions of soldiers return. The spokesman of the organization is right in this respect. There was an extremely acute labor congestion immediately before the war. Unless something shall be done to head it off, there will be another after the war. Just at present we have on our Federal statute books a tariff law which encourages Americans to buy goods made in Europe or Asia, thus closing American factories and sending our money abroad. That Federation of Federal Employees must know. You can't have jobs for everyone in America if you send your money to Japan and China to provide jobs for people there. With this war in full swing, American importers are advertising sales of wool socks made in Great Britain. If England can make socks for us in the midst of this war, what will she do to our markets if the bars are left down when the war is over? American importers are boasting of the large shipments of goods they are now getting from Japan. How much larger those shipments will be after the war, unless the tariff bars are put up again. Congestion of labor is the proper expression to describe the situation that will exist, if we continue the destructive policy of buying where the costs of production are lowest. We must get back on a sound economic basis and the only way to do this is to send to the senate and house of representatives, and to the white House, men who believe in a "Made-in-America" policy, not as a matter of temporary expediency, but as a matter of permanent principle.

The Official Bulletin.

Representative Walsh, known as "The Watchdog of the Congressional Record," performed a public service in the national house of representatives the other day when he suggested that the Official Bulletin should be suppressed to conserve paper.

This publication of the committee on public information is pure waste. It reposes in the waste basket in practically every newspaper office in the land a few minutes after it comes through the mail. It is displayed in all postoffices, and possible one person in every thousand ever entering a postoffice glances at it.

There is really no place for the Official Bulletin. The material it contains is generally news which has been handled by the press previously and then it is not in reality news.

Napoleon called the British a nation of shopkeepers, but they finally got him. The Germans, who have even been more contemptuous in their expressions, have of late had reason to recall this bit of history while hot-footing it day after day

HOW TO CONDITION AND STORE DRIED PRODUCTS

Dried foods are not ready to be placed in permanent containers as they come from the drier; they must undergo a preliminary conditioning or after-drying treatment. No matter how dry and crisp the surfaces of the pieces may feel to the touch, there is a considerable percentage of moisture present in the interior. If such material were at once placed in containers, the moisture present in each piece of material would gradually distribute itself equally throughout the piece, while the air within the can would become almost saturated with moisture, and spoilage would soon begin.

In order to avoid this danger secure a number of good-sized wooden boxes equal to the number of different products you are going to dry. Line these with clean wrapping paper or newspapers, provide sheets of closely woven mosquito netting or cheesecloth to cover them, and place them in a warm, darkened room. As material is dried, bring it directly from the drier and place it in the box set apart to that particular product, covering the box with cheesecloth so that the air may have free access to the contents while insects are kept out. At intervals of a day or two stir the contents of the box thoroughly, and when a fresh batch of produce is brought from the drier mix it thoroughly with that already in the box.

Continue this process for ten days to two weeks. During the first part of this time the products apparently will take on moisture, crisp and brittle pieces will become pliable and leathery, and the inexperienced housewife may be led to fear that the whole mass is about to spoil.

The material will then gradually become drier by loss of moisture to the atmosphere and presently it will become apparent that no change is occurring in it from day to day. Now remove the material from the boxes, place it in the drier or in the oven of the stove, and heat it gradually up to 130 degrees F. to destroy any insect eggs which may have been deposited in it, and at once place it in permanent containers.

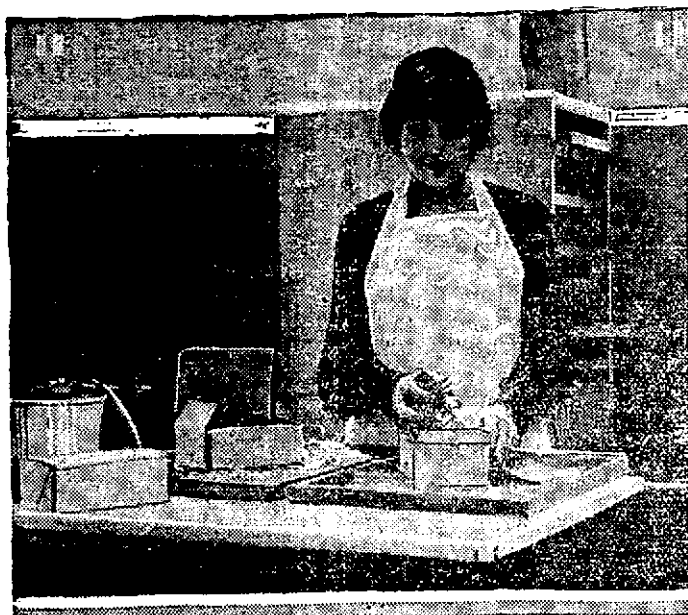

A Variety of Containers.

A considerable variety of containers may be employed for storing dried vegetables or fruits. The essential features of a good container are that it shall be insect-proof but not absolutely air-tight, and that it exclude the light. Heavy paper bags, which have been dipped into melted paraffin, lardens or other tinens having reasonably close-fitting slip covers, and tight wooden boxes similar to those in which commercial evaporated fruits are packed may all be employed with entire success.

If boxes or cans are to be used, they should be lined with several layers of waxed paper—ordinary paraffin paper is excellent—which should be so placed in the box that the second layer covers the joints of the first and that the ends project beyond the sides of the box sufficiently far to allow them to be folded snugly over the top to exclude insects. Then pour in the material, packing it down rather firmly with the hands, fold the paper tightly into place over the top, taking care to leave no openings between the folds, and put on the lid. If paper or muslin bags are to be used, it is best to place the dry product in smaller bags, folding the neck of each over and tying it tightly, and drop a number of these into a single larger bag which is in turn tightly tied. Such bags may be stored in a tin can which has a reasonably tight-fitting lid, but if a warm, dry, airy closet or storage room is available it is a much better plan to inclose them in a larger bag and suspend them from the ceiling so that the air may have free access to them.

The room in which dried materials are stored must be one which is both warm and dry. The ordinary pantry or storeroom opening out of the kitchen is not well suited to the purpose, for by steam from cooking, and dried materials readily take up moisture which they do not have opportunity to give off into dryer air. If the house has an airy attic which is kept warm by flues from the rooms below, it will furnish an ideal

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

One of the enjoyable camping parties of the summer will draw to a close tomorrow when the party at the Green camp will leave. Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Green, Miss Gertrude Green and Lot Green, Mrs. Marian Knox and daughter of Indianapolis, who have spent the week there, will break camp, and return to their homes after a series of pleasant camping, social events which have marked the week.

Mrs. Jack Knecht entertained at her home in North Harrison street yesterday afternoon with a prettily appointed bridge party, the guests including the members of the Thursday Bridge club and several other guests. Aside from the club members, the guests included Mrs. Lote Carter, Miss Mayme Hiner, Mrs. Mary L. Neuzenheizer, Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. Francis Moor of Chicago.

One of the delightful social affairs of the week was the meeting of the Five Hundred evening club, at which Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Retherford of North Main street entertained a dozen guests last night. Following several rounds of cards, the evening was closed with a dainty luncheon served by the hostesses. Aside from the club members, the guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Poe.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Thursday Afternoon Auction Bridge club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Christina Stiers in East Sixth street. Aside from the club members, the guests included Mrs. Bert Mullin, Mrs. Chauncey Duncan and Mrs. Vern Norris.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bird and family of Arlington, entertained at dinner Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Glen Moore and son of Rushville and Donald Wright of Camp Dick, Dallas, Texas, who is home on a furlough.

Private Donald Wright of Camp Dick, Dallas, Texas, and Lorine Bird of Arlington were entertained Wednesday evening for dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Moore.

classes by special examiners of the provost marshal general—sponsored by Representative Treadway of Massachusetts—and also eliminated the senate legislation requested by Gen. Crowder, authorizing transfer within states of draft board members.

Another amendment stricken out was the so-called "no-belligerent" or "alien slacker" amendment of Representative McCulloch of Ohio, which proposed that citizens of the allies in this country should not be exempted or get deferred classification solely because of their alien citizenship, unless so provided by treaty.

That army officers and West Point cadets will get their uniforms and equipment at cost from the government virtually was assured by the conferees' action in adopting a substitute for the senate amendment, extending that privilege to officers of the army, navy and marine corps. The substitute provides that, army officers and military academy cadets only shall obtain uniforms and accouterment at cost on application, but subject to departmental regulations which may limit their cost and quality.

The house managers accepted the senate amendment providing that wives of soldiers and sailors shall not be disqualified for government positions because of marriage.

Notes of Woman's Section of State Defense Council

Compiled by Mrs. Albert Rabb, Chairman Publicity Committee.

The latest thing in technical books for the ambitious young soldier or sailor, be he officer, non-commissioned officer, or enlisted man, is one of the crying needs of the hour, according to a report to the woman's section, by Mrs. Elizabeth B. Hitt, State Chairman of the Health and Recreation Committee. Mrs. Hitt announces that publishers offer great discounts in prices of these books if they are bought through the American Library Association, and she has urgently requested that the Health and Recreation Committees in the different counties collect money for the purchase of such technical works. Lagrange and Dearborn Counties have each sent checks for this purpose, the former in the sum of $65.10, and the latter $41.62. It is hoped that many other counties will respond generously to the appeal of the state chairman.

Clinton County was the first county in Indiana to go "over the top" in the recent drive for the student nurse reserve. The drive was closed on August 20, with sixteen over the county's quota.

Three hundred women are needed immediately as auditing clerks in the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Treasury Department, Washington, D.C., according to a circular issued by the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense. Applicants must have graduated from a four years' high school course or completed a course of study equivalent to that required for such graduation. Also they must have graduated from a college or university of recognized standing, or have had four full years of study in a normal or other school of college grade, in either case specializing in economics, statistics, mathematics, or business administration. The entrance salary for this position generally will be $1200 a year and in exceptional cases $1400 a year, and the opportunity for advancement by successive grades to a maximum of $2,000 a year will depend entirely upon the ability, industry and aptitude of the appointee. Application blanks (Form no. 2118) and additional information as to requirements (Form no. 464) may be obtained from the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

The women of the country are being urged by the "Woman's Committee" of Washington to assist in fuel conservation. Since the women control the use of fuel in the home, it is considered that this is a matter in which they can greatly assist the state and local councils of defense and the United States Fuel Administration in the campaign for conserving the nation's fuel supply.

The women members of the local councils everywhere, especially community defense councils, are asked to campaign actively for economy in for early buying and for the use of wood and peat, where possible, adapting their campaign always to the instructions of the State Fuel Administrator.

SUGAR SAVING IN THE HOME

One patriotic housewife has found a new way to conserve sugar that does not have to be enforced, but is entirely optional with the members of the family. Each person in the family is given his or her portion of sugar each day. They eat all of it at one meal if they so desire, but that means going without entirely for two meals. Whenever enough sugar is saved from the table supply she promises to make a cake or pie with the savings. In this way there is a reward ahead which is ever tempting goal to young conservationists.

TELLS VIVID TALE OF HUN SLAUGHTER

Private John Rosencrance Writes Description of Encounter With The German Hordes

OPENED WITH GAS ATTACK

Valiant Fighting of Americans Revealed by Numerous Dead Germans Which Sprinkled Fields

A rapid advance to new positions, preparation of dugouts for habitation, a gas attack followed by a terrible battle in which shells of all calibre crossed No Man's Land, is the story which is contained in a letter from John Rosencrance, who as a member of medical unit recently arrived in France, has already received his baptism of fire.

The story which Private Rosencrance has written contains one of the most vivid first-hand accounts of Hun slaughter which has been received here and is described by the former Rush county boy as "his idea of hell."

The gas attack which opened the encounter, evidently followed shortly after the enraged Germans were forced to give ground to the Americans, and in the battle which ensued, completely wiped out the semblance of a home which the Yankees had hurriedly prepared for themselves.

The bewildering rapidity with which the shells were rained down upon every part of the sector were described by Rosencrance, who stated that they fell everywhere like rain from midnight until eight o'clock the following morning when the work of the medical unit began, in which the first aid was administered to men in the front line positions.

"Every wounded Sammy was avenged," declared the writer, "and for every American whose wounds we bound, there were twenty Huns scattered in his vicinity." The numerous prisoners who were the result of the encounter were surprising and contained several officers, including a major, several captains and lieutenants.

The valiant fighting of the Americans was evident from the fact that they used their entire stock of ammunition and when it gave out, the Germans, whose defense was growing more feeble each hour, were glad to be given a period of rest and did not attempt a counter-attack. The story of the rides of numerous doughboys to rear positions in an attempt to bring up more ammunition again bespeaks the bravery of the American lads. Their horses

SERVE THE COUNTRY BY REMAINING IN SCHOOL

(By SERGT. J. H. SCHOLL)

The Rushville Public Schools will open Monday, Sept. 9. Boys and girls of all ages should enter school this year as never before in the history of this country has it been demonstrated that education counts, as it has been demonstrated in connection with the Army. Everywhere the word comes back from the boys that education counts. The government has shown that education and morality has been given first consideration in all appointments and promotions. And now the government says to all boys and young men that no one should be persuaded to give up his school work. The boy who goes into college enters the army but at the same time he is permitted to spend four hours of time in academic training and five hours in military training. This is the greatest opportunity that any nation has given its young men, and the call to preparation is just as patriotic as any other service. In enlisting under the Students' Army Training Corps, a boy thereby enlists in the army of the United States and is under the command of the government as much as if he is in camp or on the battle field. This arrangement has been made because the government feels the need of trained officers for the army.

The number of college students who have entered the service has so depleted the ranks of those preparing for higher education that trained men in the future will be very few unless the boys of college age take advantage of the college training.

RUSH COUNTY BOYS READY FOR OVERSEAS

Sergt. Eli Kinney at Camp Mills, N. Y., Says They Are Living Real Outdoor Soldier Life

TRAINED AT CAMP SHERMAN

Equipped for overseas service, Sergt. Eli Kinney, who has recently been transferred to Camp Mills, New York, stated in a letter written to his parents here, that he is living the life of a real soldier, in a country which is ideal for military training.

On numerous occasions were shot from under them, stated the writer, but despite these setbacks, they fought their way back to their parts of the sector with ammunition supplies.

The opportunities for the college trained man in the future will be greater than ever in a few years to come. Hence it is, of the greatest interest to boys of high school and college age to continue their education, thereby preparing for the future.

Almost every boy in Rushville over the age of fourteen years of age has been profitably employed this summer. A large number enrolled in the United States Boys' Working Reserve. This spirit of helping produce food and manufactured articles is of the right sort. But we wish to advise every boy and his parents that when school begins, the boy will do the best for his interests and the government by attending school and working thoroughly to perform his most important job—that of getting an education.

There are cases where the parents feel the necessity of having their children work. The law permits pupils who have passed the age of fourteen years, to work for reasonable compensation for employers other than their parents. In order to be permitted to work, the pupil must receive a proper certificate setting forth the above accomplishments.

A list of books for the grade schools and for the high school will be published next week. There are no changes of texts in the grade schools but a large number of new books have been adopted for the high schools by the State Board of Education.

Sergt. Kinney was one of the thousands of men who recently left Camp Sherman at Chillicothe, O., on their first lap for overseas service and has written an interesting description of the embarkation camp which is at present the home of thousands of Indiana men and more than a score of Rush county lads.

One of the most interesting sights of the trip east, Sergt. Kinney said was the first view of the Statue of Liberty as the men viewed it crossing on the ferry to the camp. "The rousing cheers which were sent out from the throats of the American militarymen displayed their eagerness to be across the sea and 'up and at 'em' more than words could have done," stated the writer, who added that their sailing orders were expected to be issued at an early date which would probably land them somewhere in England.
